Please be advised that P&O Cruises strongly recommend that all passengers purchase travel insurance which provides coverage for appropriate medical care and repatriation or medical evacuation. Some insurance policies may not cover pre-existing medical conditions, nor provide coverage for all medical services. Some policies may not provide the funds necessary for treatment nor evacuation until the passenger has returned home. Medical care and evacuation can be very expensive.

Each P&O Cruises ship is outside the scope of Australian Medicare and treatment is charged at private rates. All charges for consultations, treatments and medication, including those incurred on Australian coastal cruises, cannot be claimed on Australian Medicare.
